

GEORGETOWN VICTOR

Defeats U. of Md. in Initial Basketball Game.

WINNERS DISPLAY TEAMWORK

Ability to Play Together Presaged Victory for West End Team from the Start, the Final Score Being 58 to 3—Fred Rice and Crogan Do Most of the Scoring.

Georgetown inaugurated the local college basketball season last night at Carroll Institute by soundly trouncing the University of Maryland quint with consummate ease, the score at the end of the thirty minutes of play being 58 to 3.

The contest marked Georgetown's first appearance this season in any kind of a game, and from the showing they put up are expected to set the hottest kind of a pace for the teams they are scheduled to meet later in the season.

Successful basketball teams are usually marked off by the representatives of the Blue and Gray, the ease with which they executed their plays being the bright feature of an otherwise uninteresting game.

The visitors seemingly had no organized system of play, and were utterly unable to cope with the brilliant runs and accurate passing of the West Enders.

Crogan and Rice Star. Little Crogan, at forward, and Fred Rice, at center, were all over the field, and distinguished themselves repeatedly by their clever dribbling and dexterous goal throwing. Crogan obtained twelve goals from field, while Rice found the basket ten times. Crogan, Downey and Bill Rice played a strong defensive game, and it was largely due to their clever blocking that the Maryland forwards did not register.

Fred Rice started the scoring shortly after the ball was put in play, and his goal was immediately followed by one by Crogan. At this stage it was seen that the visitors were hopelessly outclassed, and the game resolved into a battle between Rice and Crogan for the largest number of goals.

A foul called on Fred Rice in the first half resulted in one point for the Baltimoreans, when Crogan's shot was blocked. In the second half, Rice scored 32 points, but Crogan, by a long kick, threw the leather into its haven for two additional points toward the close of the game, making the visitors' total 3.

Play Columbia To-morrow.

Interest among the students at Georgetown is now centered on the game with Columbia, which Prof. Joyce's charges play to-morrow night at Convention Hall. The New Yorkers are said to have an unusually fast team this fall, and a battle royal will undoubtedly ensue.

Line-up and summary:

Georgetown. Positions. U. of Md. Crogan, forward; Rice, center; Downey, guard; Bill Rice, guard; Crogan, forward; Rice, center; Downey, guard; Bill Rice, guard; Crogan, forward; Rice, center; Downey, guard; Bill Rice, guard.

AFTER BIG WRESTLERS.

Americus, of Baltimore, Seeks Top Honors on the Mat.

Special to The Washington Herald. Baltimore, Md., Dec. 18.—Gus Schoenlein (Americus), Maryland's champion wrestler, returned to the city yesterday from a trip to Cleveland in the interest of a wrestling campaign. His object in going to Cleveland was to attend to the contest between Fred Beil and the Cuban Wonder, so as to be in position to challenge both. He challenged them, with the result that, if the Cuban Wonder should recover from the injury to his arm received in the Cleveland bout, he will meet Americus in this city next month.

Beil will probably come here for his third event with Americus during February. It is the idea of Americus to take on Dan McLeod and the Cuban Wonder next month, Beil during February and Frank Gotch, the champion, probably during March.

Americus has met all of these men, with the exception of McLeod, and he believes he can make good with them. If he should be successful in this plan and should throw Gotch he would, of course, become the country's champion and a wrestler of international renown.

Americus is working constantly on the mat of the Baltimore Athletic Club, and believes that with two weeks of hard training he would be in condition for the contest of his life. In that form he should weigh about 175 pounds, and is now weighs 170 pounds, and is pretty hard. Beil would weigh 170 pounds and the Cuban 165, so that there would be little to choose in the weights.

Gotch weighs probably twenty-five pounds heavier than any of the men he has met, but all have met him, and Americus believes he has a chance. Americus will be twenty-four years old Christmas Day, and believes that, after eight years' work on the mat with the best men, he is now in the pink of condition for a try for the topmost honors.

Meeting of Basketball Board.

W. F. Thatcher, chairman of the championship basketball committee of the South Atlantic Association of the A. A. U., will give an informal dinner at the Y. M. C. A. this evening to his fellow members, at which plans for the coming season will be discussed. Those who are expected to attend are William Becker, Thomas Cornelius, C. E. Beckett, Walter Cox, and W. C. Thatcher.

Short Season in Stafford.

Special to The Washington Herald. Fredericksburg, Va., Dec. 18.—The board of supervisors of Stafford County, in order to protect the wild game, has passed an order prohibiting the killing of birds and game of every kind, except rabbits, after December 31, 1907. The State law limits the season to February 1, but the supervisors of the counties have the authority to shorten the season if they deem it proper.

Princeton Crew Banquet.

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 18.—A banquet was held at the Princeton Inn last night by the members of the four Princeton crews, who competed for the Carnegie cup over here on November 8 in honor of Coach Titus. They won the gratitude of every onlooker in the college by the hearty support he gave to Princeton crews. He was formally thanked for his services.

Roberts Sets New Duck Pin Mark.

Roberts, the crack bowler of the Belmonts, hung up a District new record for duckpins on the Royal Alloys last night, rolling 175. Starting with seven pins in the first bow, which proved his only break, he rolled a strong game, making seven spares and two strikes. The former record was 172.

ANDERSON W. & L'S CHOICE.

Baltimore Boy Will Lead Lexington Football Team.

Special to The Washington Herald. Lexington, Va., Dec. 18.—E. L. Alderson, of Baltimore, Md., of the class 1909, has been elected captain of the Washington and Lee football team for next season. This is his third year on the varsity team. For the season just closed he played full back, making a fine record in this position. In the past year he has played several positions and always made good. It is expected that Mr. Alderson will prove a worthy successor to C. W. Stred, of Birmingham, Ala., who was captain of the 1907 team, which was the best team in the history of the school.

The athletic committee of the university has elected J. T. Lykes, of Tampa, Fla., manager for next year's team. He succeeds R. B. Stephenson, of Meadow Dale, Va., whose excellent management this year added no little to the team's successful season.

Prospects for a strong team next season are exceptionally good, and friends of the university are hoping for great things. The record made by Washington and Lee this year on the gridiron is one of which the team may be justly proud. Following are the results with the big teams, besides the game played with the smaller colleges:

Played North Carolina to a tie; lost to Virginia Polytechnic Institute 5 to 0; the Blacksburg boys scoring on a fumble, although the Lexington lads outplayed them; defeated Virginia 6 to 5, and outplayed their opponents at nearly every point; lost to Bucknell 2 to 0, the latter scoring on a fumble. It was conceded that Washington and Lee outplayed her heavier opponents.

Interest in Outlaw Club. Delegate of Union League Looks Over Local Situation. Refuses to Talk, but Baltimore Representation Gives Out Some Interesting Information.

The exclusive announcement in The Washington Herald yesterday that the Union Baseball League intends to invade this city next summer with an outlaw club aroused considerable interest in local fandom.

The greatest secrecy continues to be maintained by promoters of the new league, but a representative of the organization spent several hours in Washington looking over the field and talking over the situation with a few well-informed baseball men. Fred Paige, of New York, was the scout who was sent here by the officials, but he refused to discuss the league, simply saying that he was here to talk baseball with a few friends.

A special from Baltimore says: Upon being asked if William J. Clarke would manage the new Baltimore ball club, of the Union League, Dr. Francis E. King said yesterday: "We have not selected the manager for the new team in this city."

The vice president of the newly formed "outlaw" league added, "It is no secret that the choice lies between two Baltimoreans of the league, one standing here and the other going to Reading. Since the organization is an 'independent' league, the names of prospective players cannot be published, as publicity might prevent us from carrying out our plans."

Dr. King said that the season would open May 1, by which time he expected to have a good team representing Baltimore. "The team," he said, "will be composed of minor-league stars. We are scouting around for such men as Ty Cobb, who two years ago was playing in a minor league at a ridiculously small salary and who is now commanding a fancy price in Detroit's outfield. There are a number of such men who are yet to be discovered. We are trying to find that class of players."

Dr. King said he had heard that in the event of Lancaster's and Wilmington's coming to the city, one standing here and the other going to Reading. Since the organization is an 'independent' league, the names of prospective players cannot be published, as publicity might prevent us from carrying out our plans."

FAMOUS YACHT SOLD.

Defender of the Americas' Cup Brings Paltry Price.

Providence, Dec. 18.—The yacht Puritan, the famous defender, which defeated the Genesta for the Americas' Cup off Sandy Hook in 1886, brought $2,500 at auction here to-day. She was purchased by William M. O'Connor, a wealthy manufacturer, of Fall River, who will use her as a pleasure yacht for cruising.

The bidding started at $100, and in a short time only two bidders remained, Mr. O'Connor and Commodore William Harkavy, of the Rhode Island Yacht Club. They raised each other $50 at a time until the yacht was finally knocked down to the former.

The Puritan originally cost $50,000. She was entirely rebuilt in 1886, and was refitted recently for exhibition purposes at the Jamestown Exposition.

FRIENDS' SCHOOL WINS.

Overwhelmingly Defeats Washington School Basketball Quint.

The Friends' School basketball team overwhelmingly defeated the team of the Washington School for Boys yesterday afternoon in the Friends' gymnasium, score 20 to 2.

The Washington boys seemed unable to locate the basket or to catch the ball, while the Friends' team threw goals almost at pleasure.

Orme and Baker played a star game for the Friends and the entire team showed good head work and speed.

OUTLAWS ARE ACTIVE

Laying Plans to Invade Both East and West.

MAY PRECIPITATE NEW WAR

Activity of New Union League in the East and Threat of American Association to Put Team in Chicago is Expected to Cause Trouble for Organized Baseball.

New York, Dec. 18.—In both the East and West just now there are indications of trouble for organized baseball. An outlaw organization, to be known as the Union League, has been launched with, so far, an exclusively Eastern circuit, while James Callahan, the well-known professional, has practically agreed to handle the new American Association club in Chicago, which will be played there in direct opposition to the wishes of the two big major leagues.

Whether this invasion of Chicago, which will probably precipitate a new baseball war, will result in a combination of the American Association and the Union League, nobody can say just yet, but the plotting has been going on for some time with the idea of forming a big circuit that in the course of time may be able to make a bid for the patronage, or at least a part of it, enjoyed by the American and the National leagues in the leading cities.

Hard to Obtain Players. Baseball men who are conservative say that these outlaw movements can never be successful on a large scale, for the reason that it will require a lot of money to obtain high-class playing talent.

Al Lawson, a baseball promoter, has been elected president of the Union League, and has already announced the names of men who will put clubs into Baltimore, Newark, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, and Reading. He also states that backing for a club in Washington has been promised, and that Patterson may be asked to take a franchise. It was also rumored here that several politicians and promoters had been asked to support a club in the Bronx.

At the meeting of the Union League promoters the other day each club voted to put up $200 cash, with a future payment of $1,000 each, as a guarantee of good faith, which, on the face of it, does not look as if the new circuit would develop dangerous strength.
